INTRODUCTION VINYL SHEET

What is Vinyl Sheet?

Homogeneous vinyl floor coverings are made of one single layer that offers vibrancy and depth of the colour.

Compared with other flooring materials, homogeneous vinyl flooring are affordable solutions and are incredibly stain resistant. These benefits make these types of vinyl flooring a great choice for heavy traffic areas.

Coated with their latest technology, Diamond10™, Goodrich's vinyl sheet offers a wide range of vinyl sheet flooring that is tough as diamond, easy to clean, more durable and chemical resistant.

Thanks to its sterile and aseptic characteristics, Goodrich's vinyl sheet are designed to excel in medical environments as well as other high-traffic commercial areas where cleanliness, durability, and maintenance are major focuses.

INTRODUCTION

HOMOGENEOUS RECONSTITUTED TIMBER

What is Homogeneous Reconstituted Timber?

This system consists of solid homogeneous planks of reconstituted timber (composite timber) which enables resanding and refurbishing works after years of wear. It has minimal shrinkage and expansion when exposed to environmental charges. Its fabrication processes allow better dimensional stability as compared to natural hardwood products.

ONEWOOD Decking consists of unique convex profile which allows better water runoff. With the PVC clip system, the screws used for installation can be concealed for a neater outlook.
