FLOORING SCHEME

WOOD GRAIN DECOR FLOORING PLAN

Wood grain decor can be used in I-shaped flooring, boat-style, herringbone flooring, oblique flooring, and Tian character flooring. The most commonly used ones are I-shaped flooring and boat-type flooring. When herringbone flooring and Tian character flooring are adopted, attention should be paid to the sewing process. When the flooring tolerance is too large at a certain position, it is necessary to reposition the gap.

STONE PATTERN DECOR FLOORING PLAN

Stone decor can be floored in square (mosaic), brick laying and herringbone flooring. The most commonly used are square and brick laying. When square flooring and herringbone flooring are adopted, attention should be paid to the gapping process. When the flooring tolerance is too large at a certain position, it is necessary to reposition the gap.
